Chanti oils are very frequently used by room service employees in hotel apartments and as an alternative to electronic air fresheners. In case of heavy traffic volume (toilets located at freeways, buses with tourists, organised groups, etc.), the electronic system is unreliable, as the refreshment frequency has been set according to the average movement of people in the room. Organic residues and animal smell are another examples. It is difficult to neutralise the smell of vomit in the toilet or animal smell in the rooms. Our oils are used then to restore cleanliness and pleasant smell. They neutralise odours and pleasantly refresh the room for 1-2 days after use.

Chanti fragrance oils are available in 16 aromatic compositions:
